EVENING STAR.

LATE TELEGRAMS, &c.

Thomas Gorman, a manufacturer of friction matches at Westwelle, Conn., went to church as usual yesterday morning, and, on returning home, shortly after noon, shot his wife with a pistol, the ball penetrating her left breast and lodging in the lung. Gorman went to police headquarters and said another man had shot his wife, but she and her son say that Gorman was the man. He is now in jail. The couple have lived unhappy for several years, and have sepa-rated three or four times. Mrs. Gorman is not expected to live till morning.

Yesterday afternoon an unfinished building on Forty-sixth street, below Eleventh avenue, New York, gave way to the violence of the wind, and, falling on a frame building adjoining, buried its occupants-Benjamin Donnelly, his wife, and four children-in the ruins. The busband and wife and three children were taken out dead. The fourth child was extricated alive, but with both legs broken. The accident caused great excitement in the neighborhood.

A Panama letter says that Captain Hein, an American, who claims to knew a route across the Isthmus of Darien superior to all other outes, and by which he can pass from Aspinwall to Panama entirely by water, has chartered a small sail-boat at Aspinwall, to be delivered in Panama, and gone to Caledonia bay.

Rumor asserts that General O'Neill is organizing for a descent upon Canada at three points, viz: Ambertsburg, Fort Erie, and some large quantities of arms and ammunition are said to be stored near at hand.

An Aspinwail letter reports that Captain Bird, of the American bark Kremlin, was imprisoned until he paid $700 for injuries sustained by a small schooner with which she collided. The American Consul made active but unavailing efforts to obtain his release.

Camp No. 1 of the Grand Army of the Consti-tation has adopted r solutions asking Congres to interfere to prevent further swindling by claim agents, and advocating county retreats for wounded veterans instead of State asylums. Luke Sinclair, alias William Henry Atkinson. who is charged with committing a murder in Philadelphia, was arrested in New York last night. He had shipped on the frigate Colorado as a barber.

The works of the Walter A. Wood Mowing and Reaping Mackine Company at Troy, N. Y., were partially destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Loss about $400,000. Insured for $245,000. Colonel Caldwell, formerly United States Minister to Bolivia, has arrived at New York as Envoy from that country to the United States. The Captain General of Cuba arrived at Puerto Principe on the 23d instant, and was received with great enthusiasm. Panama correspondence says that the Repub-of Colombia will ratify the Darien canal A railroad and telegraph line from Buenos Ayres to Santiago, Chili, is projected.

THE INCOME TAX. Mark Twain's Interview with an sessor, and what Came of It. [From the Buffalo Express.]

The first notice that was taken of me when I ettled down," recently, was by a gentleman, who said he was an assessor, and connected with United States Internal Revenue Depart-ment. I said I had never heard of his branch of business before, but I was very glad to see him, all the same-would he sit down? He sat down. I did not know anything particular to say, and yet I felt that people who have arrived at the dignity of keeping house must be conversational, must be easy and sociable in company. So in default of anything else to say, I asked him if he was opening his shop in our neighbor-He said he was. [I did not wish to appear ignorant, but had hoped he would mention what he had for sale. I ventured to ask him "how was trade? I then said we would drop in, and if we liked his house as well as any other, we would give him our custom. e said he thought we would like his establishment well enough to confine ourselves to itsaid he never saw any body who would go off and hunt up another man in his line after trading with him once. That sounded very complacent, but barring that natural expression or villainy which we all have, the man looked honest enough. I do not know how it came about exactly, but gradually we appeared to melt down and run together, conversationally speaking, and then everything went along as comfortably as clock-We talked, and talked, and talked-at least I did. And we laughed, and laughed, and laugh. ed-at least he did. But all the time I had my presence of mind about me-I had my native brewdness turned on "full head," as the engineers say. I was determined to find out all bout his business, in spite of his obscure answers; and I was determined I would have it out of him without his suspecting what I was at. I mean to trap him with a deep, deep ruse. I would tell him all about my ewn business, and he would naturally so warm to me during this seductive burst of confidence that he would tell me all about his atlairs before he suspected what I was about. I thought to myself, My you little know what an old fox you are dealing

"Now you never would guess what I made lecturing this winter and last spring?
"No-don't believe I could to save me. Let me see-let me see. About two thousand dollars maybe? But no-no, sir, I know you couldn't have made that much. Say seventeen hundred maybe?"
"Ha-ha! I knew you couldn't. My lecturing receipts for last spring and this winter were fourteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars-what do you think of that ?" "Why it is amazing-perfectly amazing. I will make a note of it. And you say even this

"All? Why bless you there was my income from the Buffalo Express for four monthsabout-about-well, what should you say to about eight thousand dollars for instance?" Why I should like to see myself rolling in just such another ocean of affluence. Eight thousand! I'll make a note of it. Why, man!—and on top of all this I am to understand that you had still more income?"

"Ha-ha-ha! Why, you're only in the suburbs of it, so to speak. There's my book, 'The Innocents Abroad'-price $3.50 to $5, according to the binding. Listen to me. Look me in the eye. During the last four months and a half, saying nothing of the sales before that but just simply during the four months and a balf ending March 15, 1870, we've sold ninety-five thousand copies of that book! Ninety-five thousand! Think of it. Average four dollars a copy, say. It's nearly four hundred thousand dollars, my son. I get half!"

"The suffering Moses! I'll set that down.
Fourteen-seven-fifty—eight—two hundred. Total, say-well, upon my word, the grand total is about two hundred and thirteen or fourteen thousand dollars. Is that possible 2"
"Possible! If there's any mistake its the other way. Two hundred and fourteen thousand, cash, is my income for this year if I know how to cipher." Then the gentleman got up to go. It came over me most uncomfortably that may be that I had made my revelations for nothing, besides being flattered into stretching them considerably by the stranger's astonished exclamations. But no; at the last moment the gentleman handed me a large envelope and said it contained his advertisement; and that I would find out all bout his business in it. As soon as he was gone, I opened his advertisement. I studied it attentively for four minutes. I then called up the cook and said: " Hold me while I faint. Let Maria turn the Bye and bye, when I came to, I sent down to the rum mill on the corner and hired an artist by the week to sit up nights and curse that stranger, and give me a lift occasionally in the day-time when I came to a hard place.

Ah, what a miscreant he was! His "adver-tisement" was nothing in the world but a wicked It was plain that that stranger had enabled me to make an ass of myself. It was very, very plain, and I went out and hired another artist.

By working on my vanity the stranger had seduced me into declaring an income of $114,000.

By law, $1,000 of this was exempt from income tax, the only relief I could see, and it was only a drop in the ocean. At the legal five per cent. I must pay over to the government the appalling sum of $10,650 mecome tax.
[I may remark in this place, that I did not do

I am acquainted with a very opulent man, whose house is a palace, whose table is regal, whose outlays are enormous, yet a man who has no income, as I have often noticed, by the revenue returns; and to him I went for advice, in my distress. He took my dreadful exhibition of receipts, he put on his glasses, he took his pen, and presto!—I was a pauper! It was the neatest thing that ever was. He did it simply by defilly manipulating the bill of "Deductions." He set down my "State, National and municipal taxes" at so much; my "losses by shipwreek, fire etc." at so much; my "losses by shipwreck, fire, etc.," at so much; my "losses by shipwreck, fire, etc.," at so much; my "losses on sales of real estate"—on "live stock sold"—on "payments for rent of homestead"—on "repairs, improvements, interest"—on "previously taxed salary as an officer of the United States army, navy, revenue service" and other things. He got astonishing "deductions" out of each and every one of these matters—each and every one of them. matters-each and every one of them. And when he was done he handed me the paper, and I saw at a glance that during the year 1869 my income, in the way of profits, had been one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars and forty cents.

"Now," said he, "the thousand dollars is exempt by law. What you want to do is to go and swear this document in, and pay tax on the two hundred and fifty dollars.

While he was making this speech his little boy Willie lifted a two-dollar greenback out of his vest-pocket and vanished with it; and I would bet anything that if my stranger were to call on that little boy to-morrow he would make a false return of his income.]

Do you," said I," do you always work up the 'deductions' after this fashion in your own

"We'l. I should say so! If it weren't for those I wan saving clauses under the heat of 'dedictions' I should be beggared every year to support this hatef I and wicked, this extortion-ate and tyrannical government." This gentleman stands away up among the very best of the solid men of Buffalo—integrity, of unimpeachable social spotlessness—and so I bowed to his example. I went down to the revenue office, and under the accusing eyes of my old visitor I stood up and swore to lie after lie, frand after fraud, villainy after villainy, till my immortal soul was coated inches and inches thick with printy, and my self-respect was gone thick with perjury, and my self-respect was gone flick with p-rjury, and my self-respect was gone forever and ever.

But what of it? It is nothing more than thousands of the highest, and richest, and proudest, and most respected, honored and courted men in America do every year. And so I don't care. I am not ashamed. I shall simply, for the present, talk little and wear fire-proof gloves, lest I fall into certain habits irrevocably.

Foreign News By Cable—Acquittal of Prince Bonaparte.—Prince Pierre Bonaparte has been acquitted in spite of a strong appeal made by the Procureur General for a verdict of guilty, with extenuating circumstances. The jury were out only one hour. As soon as the verdict was announced, the counsel for the Partie Civile demanded 100,000 francs damages. In consequence of this demand the Prince was not released from custody. He was exceedingly indignant because he was not allowed to leave the courtroom instantly. He said he wished to show that he was not afraid of the menaces against his life. In their closing arguments, the lawyers for the defense laid great stress on the constant and violent denunciation of the Prince published in the Marseillaise and on various other cir-cumstances calculated to exasperate the accused. The news of the acquittal of the Prince produces an immense sensation and a-tonishment everywhere, and is the universal tonic of conversation.

Senor Becerra, Minister for the Colonies, declared in the Spanish Cortes Saturday that the Captain General of Cuba has received instructions to order elections to be held for Deputies to the Cortes, if the situation of the island will permit them. The Colonial Department is in possession of many documents showing the character of various conspiracies which culminated in the insurrection in Cuba, and proving that one of the most considerable of these plot had been its which culminated in the state of the most considerable of these plots had for its object the elevation of Lersundi to the viceroyalty of the island.

BF It is asserted that there never was a better "stand" of wheat in North Georgia and Alabama at this season of the year than there is now. There was fully the usual amount put in last fall: the ground was, as a general thing, better pre-pared than has been customary in former years, and there is every reason to hope for a good crop

NER VOUS AND DEBILITATED,

Our Companies have an aggregate of assets exceeding $75,000,000, and some of them more than half a century of experience. They are too well known to require comment, Our own experience (extending, in the case of Mr. Hanson, through twenty consecutive years in this city) is ample; and our adjustments have always been prompt and satisfactory.
